Round No. 2 on Civil War:

Lawrence Welk

Editor The Star: On March 1 Our Daily Bread column contained a gross generalization. Quoting from the article: "Most historians largely blame (New England) for shoving America into the Civil War." May I ask who are the historians you are speaking of?

It is in fact true that most historians do not know and can not tell you why the Civil War occurred.

The major historians of the Civil War have proposed many theories and each of them has added to our understanding of the causation of the war. But to date no one theory clearly tells who or what caused the tragedy of the Civil War.

I suggest that anyone really interested in what caused the Civil War go to the library and pick up a slender volume titled "Americans Interpret Their Civil War," by Presley. This book offers all the current theories from 1860 to today.

STEVE GUNTER

March 2, 1972
Magnolia, Ark.

My reference was to no particular book but a mere recital of what public school textbooks taught me as a schoolboy in the North. Our letter-writer is correct when he observes that many explanations have been offered as to who started the Civil War.

For a generation after, the blame continued to be fixed on the South since it was the first to open fire. But with the passage of time public opinion gradually balanced the account. By the early 1900s the public schools even in the North were teaching that hot-heads on both sides brought on the war, and the textbooks were about as critical of extremists in New England as they were of those in the South.

Lincoln was a man of moderate policy, doing his best to conciliate the South. But he never was a popular figure in New England, where anti-Southern feeling ran high to begin with and mounted as the war progressed. New England's shipping industry took a beating from Dixie raiders like the Alabama, and New England trade was fearful that an independent South would tie up with British and French merchants. The British flirted with the South but finally remained neutral—but the French were openly for the South and built warships for her.

Saturday night Pod Rogers and a couple of Star carriers and your editor went to Shreveport to see the Lawrence Welk concert. Among the pictures Pod took was a posed shot of the dancing stars, Bobby Burgess and Cissy King, made at the Ramada Inn where the company of about 70 were staying. They came in by plane from Dallas and left Sunday for Baton Rouge.

I was astounded by the turnout for Welk in the Fair Grounds' Youth Center. It was jammed with 10,500 people. The crowd, it seemed to me, spelled something significant and wholesome for our United States.

Welk's appeal is to all the people, emphasizing standard popular music rather than jazz. And Saturday night's audience loved it—not merely the middle-aged but also the youngsters, who comprised perhaps half the crowd.

There's nothing wrong with an America which turns out big for Lawrence Welk.

It's the same America that lifted that corny guy named Irving Berlin to fame and fortune.

Kleindienst Hearing Is Suddenly Moved Up Day

By TOM CONROY
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A cardiac surgeon to lobbyist Dita D. Beard was to appear today before the Senate Judiciary Committee inquiry into accusations against acting Atty. Gen. Richard G. Kleindienst.

The panel had been scheduled to resume taking testimony Tuesday on allegations made by columnist Jack Anderson, but committee counsel John H. Holloman III said the inquiry would resume today.

He declined Sunday to explain the reason for the change or who will appear. But it was learned the first to testify at today's hearing would be Dr. Victor L. Liska, of Arlington, Va., who has been treating Mrs. Beard.

It was Mrs. Beard's memo-random to her boss, the head of International Telephone and Telegraph Corp.'s Washington office, that prompted the allegations against Kleindienst, according to Anderson.

The columnist wrote that an antitrust action against ITT was settled in its favor after the conglomerate pledged $400,000 to help finance the Republican National Convention in San Diego in August.

Anderson accused Kleindienst, who was named to succeed John N. Mitchell as head of the Justice Department, of participating in secret meetings with Felix Rohatyn, an ITT director, to settle the case.

Kleindienst, in an appearance before the committee last week, said the Beard memo was false, and said he had taken no part in negotiating the ITT settlement.

Anderson and Mitchell are expected to testify Tuesday.

Dr. Liska returned to the Washington area Sunday after treating Mrs. Beard, 53, at the Rocky Mountain Osteopathic Hospital in Denver, where she had been located by FBI agents Saturday and served with a subpoena.

Liska and another physician said in Denver Sunday that Mrs. Beard is seriously ill with a heart ailment, coronary ischemia—a decrease in the blood supply to the heart muscle.

The physicians said Mrs. Beard's condition was improved slightly Sunday, but added it may be more than a week before she will be able to leave the hospital.

Kleindienst's nomination to be attorney general had been approved unanimously by the committee and reported to the Senate last week before Anderson made his allegations.

Kleindienst, who served as deputy attorney general the last three years, requested the panel's hearings last week and denied there was any link between the settlement and the ITT pledge, or that he knew of the pledge until the out-of-court agreement was reached.

Farm Policy to Get First Test

By DON KENDALL
AP Farm Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Agriculture Department policy makers should get a better idea this week on whether their grand strategy for reducing feed-grain and wheat production this year will work.

The question is: Will grain farmers commit enough land to 1972 "set-aside" programs to curb production significantly this year?

Another progress report on farmer signups in the programs will be issued Wednesday or Thursday. It will show how much crop land has been enrolled through noon on March 2, little more than a week away from the March 10 deadline for signing up in county offices.

Panda Craze Is Likely

NEW YORK (AP) — If the Communist Chinese give the Americans two giant pandas, can a public panda craze be far behind?

Some capitalist toy makers think not and are already gearing up for increased production of stuffed pandas.

"The pandas had a tremendous buyer acceptance at the Toy Fair this past week," said Herbert Raiffe, president of a Brooklyn toy firm. "We're going to put out our first musical panda."

A Warming Trend in Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A warming trend is expected to produce shirt-sleeve weather in Arkansas Tuesday.

Highs Tuesday should be mostly in the 70s.

The fair weather is a product of a rather large high pressure system that was centered this morning over east central Mississippi. The high was drifting eastward but was expected to continue to control the state's weather through Tuesday.

Increasing cloudiness is expected Tuesday because of the southerly flow of winds around the western end of the high and the southeastward movement of a front from the northwest. A chance of rain is forecast Wednesday, but no precipitation is forecast through Tuesday.

Highs Sunday were mostly in the 50s. Maximum readings today should be in the 60s and low 70s.

Lows tonight should be mostly in the 40s.

Overnight lows include Fayetteville 27, Harrison 32, Jonesboro 32, Pine Bluff 35, Texarkana 39, El Dorado 30, Memphis 32, Little Rock 31 and Fort Smith 29.

NAACP Head to Be Candidate

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Dr. Jerry Jewell of Little Rock, state president of the NAACP, has announced that he would run as a Democrat for the state Senate.

Jewell announced Saturday for District 3, which includes much of Little Rock's black east side.

IRA Denies Bombing

BELFAST (AP) — The Irish Republican Army denied today that it was responsible for the Belfast restaurant bombing that killed two women and wounded 136 other persons. The IRA accused Protestant extremists of trying to whip up public anger against the Catholic guerrillas.

Police said Sunday they believed IRA terrorists had planted the gelignite charge in the Abercorn restaurant Saturday. But a spokesman in Dublin for the Provisional wing of the IRA called the bombing "a deliberate act of terror against uninvolved civilians."

A spokesman for Sinn Fein, the political organization of the IRA's official wing, said in Dublin: "We have consistently condemned attacks upon civilian installations and we would very strongly condemn this one."

As a wave of revolution swept Ireland, Prime Minister Jack Lynch of the Irish Republic appealed to the IRA to suspend its campaign of violence in Northern Ireland. But he made clear he was not accusing the underground organization of responsibility for the blast.

Detectives leading a manhunt for the bombers appealed today for "the slightest scrap of information."

New Hampshire Holds Political Spotlight

DURHAM, N.H. (AP) — The campaign for Tuesday's New Hampshire presidential primary moved into the home-stretch with Sens. Edmund S. Muskie and George S. McGovern swapping claims over who was first to disclose political finance sources.

Muskie said he listed his contributors in 1970 but stopped when McGovern and other Democrats failed to follow. McGovern called the claim a farce. He asked Muskie to match his recent disclosure of all 1971 and 1972 contributors.

The issue proved the chief difference between the two senators on a 90-minute televised debate here Sunday night.

They were joined in the year's first campaign debate by the three other Democrats listed on Tuesday's primary ballot—Sen. Vance Hartke of Indiana, Mayor Samuel F. Yorty of Los Angeles and anti-poverty worker Edward Coll of Hartford, Conn.

Muskie, from neighboring

Maine, is favored to lead the field Tuesday, but political analysts will be watching his percentage. Early in the campaign, aides talked of 50 per cent as a minimal goal, but a poll published Sunday by the Boston Globe gave Muskie 42 per cent, McGovern 26 and other Democratic candidates a total of 12 per cent with 20 per cent of the vote undecided.

The Democratic contenders planned a busy last day of campaigning today.

In the Republican primary, President Nixon is expected to win easily over Paul N. McCloskey of California and Rep. John M. Ashbrook of Ohio.

Nixon may also get some Democratic write-in votes—he got 5 per cent of them four years ago.

So will Rep. Wilbur D. Mills of Arkansas, who told several hundred backers in Manchester Sunday he plans to fight actively for the Democratic nomination in other primaries. Backers have conducted a well-financed write-in campaign in New Hampshire for the Arkansas congressman.

The debate was actually a series of opening and closing speeches sandwiched around answers to eight questions from a panel of newsmen.

Yorty, who has the backing of conservative publisher William Loeb's Manchester Union Leader, repeatedly attacked the views of Muskie, McGovern and Hartke, calling them "members of the left-wing liberal bloc in the United States Senate." He criticized their votes to reduce defense spending.

"I don't really think they have much to debate each other about," Yorty said.

Coll, who at 32 is three years younger than the constitutional minimum for the presidency, enlivened the proceedings by occasionally waving a black rubber rat to illustrate what he termed "the No. 1 killer in America."

Seeks Way to Fight Forced Busing

By FRANCES LEWINE
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon arranged to meet today with top domestic advisers to discuss how the administration will fight forced busing of school children.

The chief executive called in his Cabinet committee on busing and three top administration blacks to discuss "a variety of views and options" on busing, deputy press secretary

Neal Ball announced.

The President also was to receive a final report on a two-year study by his Commission on School Finance, headed by former Defense Secretary Neil McElroy. Their report was due March 3 but Nixon held off so he could meet personally with the commission.

Ball cautioned reporters not to expect any final report or any announcement today of the President's position on how best to fight busing. The main purpose was discussion "preliminary to a final report," Ball said.

On several occasions Nixon has stated his opposition to forced busing to achieve racial balance in the schools.

Before his China trip, Nixon promised a group of congressmen who favor a constitutional amendment against busing that he would make some proposal after his return home.

He assured them he would not "leave the situation as it is" in the face of recent federal court decisions requiring large-scale busing to achieve school integration. He mentioned three ways to fight busing—legislation, a constitutional amendment and intervention in court suits—but indicated there might be other methods.

The President took up the busing question with two of his top domestic advisers—John Ehrlichman, head of the domestic council, and chief of staff H.R. Haldeman—during a five-day Florida stay that ended Sunday.

Delegation to Black Meet

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) — A delegation of 36 blacks has been elected to represent Arkansas at the National Black Political Convention next week-end at Gary, Ind.

The delegation was selected at a statewide political caucus of about 75 blacks at Arkansas AM&N College Saturday.

The National Black Political Convention is an outgrowth of meetings of black leadership initiated by members of the Black Congressional Caucus last year. The aim is to develop a "unified black political strategy for 1972 and beyond." Arkansas is entitled to 112 regular and alternate delegates. All 76 black elected officials in the state are automatically delegates to the national convention.

Planes Attack Enemy Antiaircraft Posts

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — American warplanes attacked two more antiaircraft batteries in North Vietnam Sunday, and B52 heavy bombers stepped up their raids in neighboring Laos, the U.S. Command reported.

It was the fifth successive day of raids in North Vietnam and brought the year's total of strikes there to 80 so far.

The command said U.S. Navy fighter escorts bombed antiaircraft guns in the Ha Tinh region 96 and 106 miles north of the demilitarized zone after they fired on U.S. reconnaissance planes. Results of the strikes were not known, but there was no damage to the American planes, the command said.

The U.S. Command reported a total of 11 such strikes in the four previous days and said the targets were all antiaircraft defenses. The North Vietnamese Foreign Ministry in two statements charged that many of the strikes were in populated areas and killed or wounded many civilians.

Meanwhile, the focus of the B52 bombing campaign shifted from South Vietnam back to supply routes in Laos and Cambodia.

Although the U.S. Command does not disclose targets of B52 raids outside of South Vietnam, the objectives were believed to be the North Vietnamese build-ups which U.S. sources said are continuing along the western side of the central highlands and farther north along the border.

A brigade of up to 5,000 South Vietnamese paratroopers moved from Saigon to Pleiku, in the highlands, during the weekend to reinforce government forces in the region.

The South Vietnamese Command reported scattered, small-scale ground action Sunday and early today, with 39 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong killed and two captured, and government casualties of six dead and 15 wounded.

An explosion in a river convoy 10 miles east of Saigon Sunday morning sank three barges loaded with 300 tons of ammunition and damaged two escort vessels. Three South Vietnamese were reported missing and six injured.

Enemy gunners fired three rockets into the Cam Ranh Air Base on the coast 200 miles northeast of Saigon, wounding one American and damaging one building, the U.S. Command said. It was the first rocket attack on the Cam Ranh base since Jan. 16.

In the political-diplomatic sphere, U.S. Asst. Secretary of State Marshall Green met for two hours with President Nguyen Van Thieu and told him that American officials held no meetings with North Vietnamese officials in Peking during President Nixon's visit, South Vietnamese officials reported. They said Green also assured Thieu no private arrangements concerning the Vietnam war were made between Nixon and Premier Chou En-lai.

Court Decision on Use of Natural Gas

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court today set the stage for an early ruling on the allocation of natural gas supplies to homeowners during periods of shortages.

The prompt review had been sought by the Justice Department after the U.S. Circuit Court in New Orleans held that the Federal Power Commission did not have authority to make the allocations.

Describing the situation as urgent, the government said homes, schools, hospitals, public buildings and other small consumers could face a critical shortage next winter unless the Supreme Court ordered a reversal this term.

The way the court schedules its work the dispute normally would not have been heard until next fall, assuming the justices chose to review it at all.

But the court directed the lawyers in the case to submit their briefs on an expedited basis.

No date for the hearing was

Weather Varies Over Nation

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A jumbled jigsaw pattern of weather covered the nation today, with a storm in the Northeast, cold wave warnings for the Southeast and record high temperatures in the Southwest.

A storm off the coast of Maine spread snow and high winds to northeastern New England, with from two to four inches of new snow expected over parts of Maine.

Another disturbance over Lake Ontario dumped locally heavy snow over Western New York. Boonville, N.Y., reported receiving six inches in a five-hour period.

Cold and dry weather spread over much of the central and southeastern portions of the country, as Alabama, Georgia, South Carolina and parts of Florida braced for temperatures well below freezing.

In the Southwest, however, more warm and dry weather was expected.

Court to Rule on Secret Documents

By BARRY SCHWEID

Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court agreed today to rule on the government's power to classify its documents as secret.

The test case, accepted for review next term, concerns nine reports and letters prepared for President Nixon on the Cannikin underground nuclear test.

Last October, Judges Harold Leventhal and Charles Fahy of the U.S. Circuit Court here cleared the way for the possible public release of some of the documents.

At issue is the government policy of classifying all documents in a particular file as "secret" or "top secret" if one of them contains material considered sensitive.

Ruling in a suit brought by Rep. Patsy T. Mink, D-Hawaii, and 32 other members of Congress, Leventhal and Fahy ordered U.S. District Court Judge George Hart Jr. to examine the Cannikin papers and determine which of them "are separable from the secret remainder."

The Justice Department said in appealing that this "judicial inquiry into matters which are peculiarly within the province of the executive" is inconsistent with provisions of the Freedom of Information Act of 1970.

That law generally makes government records available to the public, but has several exceptions, including material the executive branch finds should be kept secret "in the interest of the national defense or foreign policy."

The reports on Cannikin were compiled by a committee headed by John N. Irwin II, the undersecretary of State. The committee was established in 1969 by Nixon to advise him. Cannikin was carried out at Amchitka Island in Alaska last Nov. 6.

Three Killed on Highways

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Three persons lost their lives during the weekend in traffic mishaps in Arkansas.

Loy Green, 57, of Bradley (Lafayette County) was killed Sunday night when the car he was driving crashed on a Lafayette County road about three miles west of Gin City.

Walter R. Hunt, 75, of Yellowville was killed Sunday when thrown through the windshield of a car which had skidded into a rock bluff on a county road south of Yellowville.

State Police Trooper Bill King said the car's driver, 74-year-old Nora Hunt of Yellowville, said the car's brakes failed on a long, downhill grade and couldn't negotiate a curve at the bottom of the hill.

She was injured, King reported.

Tom Dillingham Jr., 41 of Newport, was the other victim. He died Saturday in a car that crashed with a Cotton Belt freight train on Arkansas 14 near Arkansas 39 at Waldenburg.

MRS. CALEB L. DAVIS III

Miss Brenda Carol Faulkner and Caleb Livingston Davis III of Braggadocio, Missouri, exchanged wedding vows Saturday evening, February 5, in the First United Methodist Church of Emmet.

The brides parents are Mr. and Mrs. Berry Faulkner of Emmet. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Caleb L. Davis Jr. of Braggadocio, Missouri.

Grandparents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Burke of DeAnn, and the late Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Faulkner, and Mr. and Mrs. Caleb L. Davis Sr.

The Rev. John Prothro performed the double ring ceremony.

The altar was centered with a double candle tree of tall cathedral tapers and flanked on either side by spiral candleholders holding the same type tapers and draped in dark green natural foliage.

Jack Faulkner of Hope, brother of the bride, and Dave Haggard of Kennett, Missouri, lighted the candles.

Bill Faulkner of Little Rock, brother of the bride, and Charles A. Faris of Hayti, Missouri, cousin of the groom, served as ushers. The ushers and candlelighters also served as groomsmen.

Charles Davis of Braggadocio served his brother as best man. Mrs. Charles Albert Faris of Braggadocio, aunt of the groom, was the organist. Mrs. Clovis Hicks of Hope sang, "Whither Thou Goest," and "The Lord's Prayer."

NEW YORK (AP) — Like it or hate it, the women's liberation movement has really had an impact in Hollywood: Three pilot films were broadcast on the three major networks over the weekend, and each proposed a series for a woman star.

One featured a woman doctor, one cast a woman as a private eye, and the third was built around a woman lawyer. Until now, these jobs have been considered men's work.

Jayne Wyman turned up Sunday night in a pilot on NBC's "The Bold Ones." She played, very attractively, a pediatrician treating a teen-age boy with bleeding ulcers. The hour came in the standard TV-doctor-show mold—Dr. Amanda Fallon even had a younger (male) assistant.

As usual in TV fiction, the good, concerned doctor was able to devote most of her time to one patient. She uncovered the cause of the boy's illness and added a wise little lecture on human relations. The viewer who finds "Marcus Welby, M.D." soothing and leans on the "Medical Center" team, will undoubtedly find "Amanda Fallon, M.D." a bright spot on a schedule—if it makes it.

Saturday night's pilot, "A Very Missing Person," on ABC was vaguely based on a fairly recent Stuart Palmer book. It was a busy story built around dropouts and con men and really didn't make very much sense.

The big problem was trying to fit Eve Arden into the character of Hildegard Withers, the retired school teacher who solves murders for fun. There was constant reference to Miss Withers' advanced age—and Miss Arden did not look in the least like a little old spinster lady. Also her crisp decisive

Helen Bottel Helen Help Us!

NO WAY TO WIN A HUSBAND

Dear Helen:

I'm young, attractive and divorced for seven years. I work for a company where there's little opportunity to meet young single men, and I avoided the married ones, until two years ago, when I began a wonderful relationship with an executive who said he didn't love his wife, but only stayed with her out of loyalty or maybe pity.

A few months ago he broke up with me, saying his wife had found out about us. After that he gave me several nice gifts, and way with a line, a technique that works well for her in comedy, added an aggressive, abrasive note, possibly because the lines were not worthy of the technique.

Susan Hayward's pilot Friday night on CBS, "Heat of Anger," is a natural for conversion into a courtroom series. It was, once again, an overt switch on a familiar format—the experienced older attorney, this time a woman, and the younger, fiery aide played by James Stacy.

The plot revolved around a rich builder charged with murdering one of his high steel workers, a married man who was having an affair with the builder's 18-year-old daughter.

In terms of slick production and good entertainment, the best effort of the weekend was ABC's made-for-TV film, "Fireball Forward," on Sunday night. A tough, taut story about a front-line general faced with a security leak in his division, it had some film footage from the movie "Patton" and Ben Gazzara playing the general. The results were excellent. If the producers could get enough film, it would make a good action series.

once or twice (when he had been drinking) he came to my apartment. Not recently, though. I still feel very emotional about him. He's terribly attractive, doesn't show his age (17 years older than me), and has charmed all the women in our organization with his marvelous personality. Besides, he's my best (perhaps last) chance.

Here is my question, Helen: Why should three of us be miserable (me, his wife and him) when two of us could be so very happy, if his wife would just accept our love and blow out? For this reason, I want to tell her about the gifts and visits—so that she'll know he isn't "over" me and never will be. Surely when she learns about us "the second time around," she'll throw him out and he'll have no other place to come but to me.

A mutual friend told me that before this man met me, he and his wife seemed the most contented of couples, and he would never leave her because of his business and social affiliations in our small town. However, if SHE left him, he'd have no choice. Don't you think I'd be wise to have a talk with her? —HOPING

Dear Hoping:

No!!!

Face it, you were an interlude, possibly one of several. "Other women" seldom win husbands via chats with their wives. Even if you succeeded in causing trouble (your story is more apt to bring on pitying smiles from a woman who knows her man all too well), you'd lose the campaign. Do you really think a man would return to a good-time girl whose big mouth upset his business and social life? —H.

Dear Helen:

Being six months pregnant, I took the only job I could find—

I'm a telephone solicitor for a cemetery. When I call people, they are rude and insulting, and I can barely finish my speech before they hang up on me.

I know this is a tough subject, but WHY can't they politely say they aren't interested? Does anyone have a good word to say about phone solicitors? —MRS. K.

Dear Mrs. K.:

The word most people have for phone solicitors is good...BYE. Sorry I can't be more sympathetic, but that's my word for them, too. —H.

Dear Helen:

I love my gentleman friend very much but every time we're alone in his apartment or mine, he ends up raping me. I don't really mind but wish I could talk to him more. —HELP?

Dear Help:

Now I've heard everything: rape between two consenting adults! You've got your definitions scrambled, friend.

Maybe you should try communicating by telephone? —H.

Dear Helen:

These moderns who say they'll LOVE together but not marry because the license ruins the relationship: How can a slip of paper ruin anything? Maybe they're just afraid of community property splits or alimony—or the high cost of divorce lawyers...or of really committing themselves. —FOR MARRIAGE

Nutritionist Hits 'Fad Food' Trends

By GAYNOR MADDOX

These are the days when millions praise "health, organic and natural foods."

The subject to some has picked up an almost ideological, even religious, meaning. Many cannot discuss it without emotional upset.

But there is a negative side to the argument, too. "From my experience and researches, I think no food should be identified as health food. All edible foods properly used are conducive to physiologic and psychologic health. Yes, whether they are purchased in a so-called 'Health Food Store' or in an ordinary grocery or supermarket," says nutritionist Frederick J. Stare, M.D., chairman of Department of Nutrition, Harvard School of Public Health.

Like many other noted scientists, the Harvard doctor looks with question on the rage for "organic foods." He assures us that they have no added nutritional value over foods grown with chemical fertilizers.

"Organic food enthusiasts should speak of organically grown foods, meaning foods grown on soil fertilized with manure or composts of various types, and foods grown without use of chemical fertilizers. That is different from calling the foods themselves organic," Stare insists.

Speaking of "natural foods," he says they are identical to organically grown foods except in the processing no substances (nutritive or nonnutritive) are supposed to be added. Even salt or sugar added to natural foods makes them no longer "natural foods."

"We think no food should be singled out as natural food. The term should be prohibited because all foods are natural or manufactured from natural foods. However, individual nutrients, such as vitamins, may be either of natural origin or synthetic. But then individual nutrients are not foods, they are nutrients. Thus vitamin C (ascorbic acid) occurs in citrus fruits—food—or it can be manufactured chemically as a nutrient, not a food, and then added to foods that may be low or lacking in it. Nutrients, whether they occur in food or are manufactured and added, are identical chemically and biologically," he adds.

Ninety-seven per cent of Canada's 5.5 million households have radios.

Rehearsal Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. Caleb L. Davis Jr. of Braggadocio, Missouri, were host for a rehearsal dinner Friday, February 4, for the Davis-Faulkner wedding in the Town and Country dining room.

Burgandy roses and a pink carnation bouquet were the centerpiece with pink candles on the T shape table where a three course meal was served to 28.

The bride-elect, Miss Brenda Carol Faulkner, and her fiancé, Caleb Livingston Davis III, chose that time to present gifts to those in the wedding party.

Afterwards Mr. and Mrs. Jack Faulkner entertained with a party at their home for the wedding party.

The typical American supermarket in 1971 stocked 8,500 items, but 38 per cent were non-foods ranging from hair spray to rawhide bones for dogs.

Razorbacks Star at Sports Banquet

LOUIS CAMPBELL, JON RICHARDSON, COACH HAROLD HORTON, JIM HODGE AND MARK HOLLINGSWORTH

By BILL MOORE
Star Sports Writer

Last Saturday night various awards went to athletes at the annual Hope High School All-Sports Banquet held at the Coliseum.

However, the best part of the program had to be the featured speakers, Jon Richardson, Louis Campbell, Jim Hodge, Mark Hollingsworth, and Linebacker Coach Harold Horton, all members of the University of Arkansas Razorback Football Team.

Each one gave his testimonial for Christ and told why he was at the banquet.

Coach Horton talked of the fine athletic department at the U of

A, of the closeness of the athletes through the FCA (Fellowship of Christian Athletes), and of setting athletic goals and trying to reach them.

Hodge told the audience that the Razorbacks were working toward the SWC Championship and possibly a national championship through the work of the lord and dedication as teammates and not individuals.

Richardson started off by telling of landing at the airport, taking a little tour of the city, and still getting to the banquet 10 minutes early. He then told about his close relationship, as the first black athlete at the University, with the other players.

Campbell and Hollingsworth told of how they were in Hope first as Christians and second as athletes and that to reach a goal, one must have a good mental attitude about it.

Earlier in the program, Judge John L. Wilson, the Master of Ceremonies, introduced the coaches, who recognized the players of the respective squads. In football, Lynn Norton

Bullets Hand Lakers a Loss

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A team scoring 108 points against the Los Angeles Lakers is normally called "the losing team." However, the Baltimore Bullets got 108 and escaped the West Coast as "the winning team."

The Bullets handed the Lakers a 108-94 loss Sunday night. It was the first time this season the record-setting Lakers had failed to score more than 100 points.

Another item of bad news for Los Angeles is its chances of setting a National Basketball Association record for season victories was dimmed. The Lakers must win 10 of their remaining 11 games to crack the 68-victory mark set by Philadelphia in 1966-67.

For Coach Bill Sharman of the Lakers, it was "just a lousy defensive game for us." He pointed out the Bullets scored on easy layups in the second half, and Baltimore also interrupted the Los Angeles' fast break.

Los Angeles managed just a slim 52-50 lead at halftime. Baltimore had a 33-25 third-quarter edge as John Tresvant and Mike Riordan ignited an early spurt, backed by a late quarter spree by Dave Stallworth and Archie Clark.

The Bullets widened the lead in the fourth period as the Lakers' shooting went from luke-warm to cold.

Jack Marin, with 29 points, was the Bullets' leading scorer. Clark hit 22 points while Riordan had 15. For Los Angeles Jerry West had 25, Gail Goodrich 19 and Jim McMillian 18.

The Cincinnati Royals' Tom Van Arsdale and Nate Archibald each scored 39 points in a 125-114 come-from-behind victory over Boston, which had led at the end of three quarters 87-78. The Royals scored 47 points in the final period with Van Arsdale and Archibald getting 17 each.

John Havlicek was high scorer for Boston with 29 points. JoJo White chipped in 28 for the Celtics.

In other National Basketball Association games, Philadelphia defeated New York 100-98, Phoenix thumped Buffalo 131-103, Chicago downed Houston 128-97, and Seattle beat Atlanta 112-110.

Brick Door Unbeaten

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Brick Door, unbeaten in two starts at Oaklawn Park this season, heads a field of seven 3-year-olds in today's $10,000 feature.

The homebred Brick Door, owned by W. C. Partee of Magnolia, started only once as a 2-year-old, finishing second in that outing last July at Arlington Park in Chicago.

But at Oaklawn this year, the son of Mr. Brick-Girl Next Door has scored consecutive victories, first at 5 1/2 furlongs, then at six.

Today's event is at one mile and 70 yards.

Green Country, owned by R. N. Hardin after a recent claim, could draw the favorite's role.

John Lively will be aboard Oaklawn Coltery, which has finished second third and twice first in Oaklawn races this year.

The third was in the first division of the $20,000 Southwest Handicap.

This Is Big Week for College Basketball

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

This is the week that is for many college basketball teams. Nine conference games will be decided and the volatile finish will make waves reaching both the NCAA's post-season tournament and the NIT.

Two Big Ten powers who literally battled the last time they met, Ohio State and Minnesota, are among the antagonists.

"If there is a playoff, it wouldn't make any difference to us where it would be played," said Minnesota Coach Bill Musselman after Saturday's 91-62 crusher over Illinois that moved the Gophers a meager game ahead of the Buckeyes, who lost 65-57 to Indiana.

Harding Wins at Atlanta

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Harding College has won the Emory University intercollegiate Business game for the second time, becoming the first school to repeat as champion.

The announcement Saturday climaxed six weeks of competition between 40 colleges and universities from the South, Midwest and Eastern Seaboard. The teams in the competition theoretically manufactured and sold stainless steel household products.

Judging was on each team's market strategy.

Harding first won the championship in 1969. It finished second in 1969. Arkansas State University won last year.

The Harding team was composed of Mike Cole of Trenton, Mich.; Ron Wages of Pascagoula, Miss.; Bob White of Glenade, Pa.; Tom Maddox of Hot Springs, Ark.; and Mark Wallis of Richardson, Tex., all senior accounting majors.

Class AA Tournament

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — What may become the Willie Dale show begins in Barton Coliseum here today, but the "star" won't be around until Wednesday.

It's the Class AA senior boys state basketball tournament and Dale's Magnolia squad, defending state Class AA champions, are among the favorites. Magnolia doesn't get into action, however, until Wednesday. The Magnolia foe then will be Hot Springs Lakeside.

"As Willie goes, so goes the team," said coach Bill Dawson of Magnolia. "Willie is the backbone of our attack."

Dale had a hot hand last year and Magnolia shaded Harrison 53-51 to take the championship in the final game.

Harrison inaugurates the tournament this year, meeting Camden Fairview in the opening game. Incidentally, Magnolia beat Fairview 53-47 in Magnolia Thursday night and Dale led all scorers in that game with 18 points.

Central Tops in Class AAAA

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Little Rock Central, ranked No. 1 in the state, opens the Class AAAA-AAA senior boys state basketball tournament here today and has to prove it all over again.

The Tigers, who compiled a 25-2 mark during the regular season, meet Jonesboro in the first game of the weeklong tournament.

The key to a tournament championship? Central coach Don Nixon says, "It'll be the team that gets hot."

J. L. High, coach of No. 2-ranked Little Rock Parkview, says, "The team that plays in the tournament just like it's playing a regular season game will win."

And Dwight Williams, coach of third-ranked Blytheville, says the winner will be the team that gets "every break there is."

Stephens Takes Crown

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — For the second straight year, Stephens' Roadrunners are the champions of the Class A state basketball tournament.

The Roadrunners repeated by beating Stamps 63-55 in the finals Saturday night.

It was the third straight year that Stephens had figured in a state basketball championship. In 1970, all-black Stephens Carver won the Class B championship.

Last year, with Carver consolidated with Stephens High the new Roadrunners claimed the Class A title. Their victims last year, as Saturday night, were the Stamps Yellowjackets.

Stamps took an early lead, but Stephens took a 28-22 half-time lead with the aid of Jimmy Jenkins' six points in the second period.

Stephens led the rest of the way, but never by more than 10.

Jenkins led the victors with 16 points. Ralph Porchia, named the outstanding player in the tournament, added 12. Terry Yarbrough had 11.

Royce White with 14 points and Danny Spear with 13 were high for Stamps.

Named to the all-tournament team were Porchia, Yar-

Menifee Wins Class B

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — "You dream about something like this, and now it's for real," says Eddie Boone, coach of the Menifee Mustangs, after his team won the Class B state basketball championship Saturday night.

With two star performers missing much of the action, Menifee handled Mayflower 51-35 in the finals.

"This has to be the high point in my coaching career," said Boone, who has brought Menifee to four state tournament semifinals.

The victory was the fourth time Menifee had beaten Mayflower this season.

Menifee's Ricky Strickland, who was averaging about 20 points a game, missed the game because of a broken ankle he suffered Friday night.

Mayflower's 6-foot-3 Johnny Bynum missed the first half of the championship game because car trouble made him late.

Menifee outscored Mayflower in every quarter, leading 25-18 at the half and holding a 41-29 margin going into the fourth period. At that time, the Mustangs started their delay game to ice away the victory.

Ronald Williams pumped in 18 points for Menifee. Gary Heagans and his brother, Ronald, each had 10.

Theardis Stubbs, who had been averaging about 20 points a game, scored only 12 points in the Mayflower defeat.

Williams, Strickland, Stubbs and Bobby Acklin of Mayflower were named to the all-tournament team. Others on the team were Jerry Vest of County Line, Carter Rickman of Biggers-Reyno, Sam Biley of Vaster, David Bean of Prattville, Sherman Ingram of Wilmar and Bill Beshoner of Scranton.

Portland won the sportsman-ship award.

Hankton Named to All Stars

SEARCY, Ark. (AP) — Terry Hankton of Arkansas Tech, who averaged 22.7 points this season, was a unanimous choice to the NAIA District 17 All-Star team announced Sunday.

The team, selected by coaches, was composed of 10 players.

Hankton averaged 11.8 rebounds during the season. Other top vote-getters on the team were Joe Byrnes of Arkansas AM&N, Tommy Patterson of Ouachita and David Combs of Tech.

Also on the team were Danny Thomas of Hendrix, John Reed of College of the Ozarks, Charlie Johnson of the University of Arkansas-Little Rock, Sam Witherspoon of Henderson, Al Flanagan of Southern State and Jim Hamilton of Ouchita.

Nicklaus-Trevino Showdown Match

By HUBERT MIZELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

MIAMI (AP) — It's a Nicklaus-Trevino gunfight at the O.K. Doral with the Over-the-Hill Gang in grizzled pursuit.

"I'd better shoot a 67 Monday," said Lee Trevino, "or I'm a dead Mexican. Jack Nicklaus is the best that ever picked up a club ... and what about them old fellows? When they gonna quit?"

Last year's two leading money winners sloshed into today's final 18 holes of the rain-hammered Doral-Eastern Open Golf Tournament in a deadlock at 10-under-par 206.

"It's rained so much here, I feel like I'm wading across the Rio Grande," said tour jester Trevino. "But, let me assure everybody, I'm happy to be tied for the lead after Nicklaus shot 64."

The stars were there ... as expected. Their supporting cast was a bit of a surprise as the old goats, for one week at least, shoved aside a few of the young lions.

For instance, bald-headed Sam Snead, 59, shot a 68 and stood one shot behind Nicklaus and Trevino at 207 after 54 holes.

For instance, silver-haired Paul Harney, a 42-year-old club pro, stood with Slammin' Sam as he, too, fired a 68 — under-par 68.

For instance, pudgy Bob Rosburg, 45, was only four strokes behind after finishing a Sunday round of 70 using his three-iron to putt. His putter's shaft snapped four holes from the finish and Bob one-putted all four with the sub club.

And, for instance, pot-bellied Julius Boros, 52, shot 70 to stick within striking range at five-under-par 211 along with Art Wall, a man of 47.

Nicklaus was finishing the final hole when Sunday's heaviest rains hit. He waited in the locker room and, when word came that the fourth round was postponed, the Golden Bear looked at his 10-year-old and said, "Let's go fishing, son."

Nicklaus dropped nine birdies and suffered only one bogey in one of his hottest rounds of the year.

Porkers Beat Rice Owls

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The Arkansas Razorbacks brought their season and a 13-game losing streak on the road to an end Saturday night, defeating Rice 113-108.

The victory gave the Razorbacks a 5-9 mark in the South-west Conference and an 8-18 overall. Rice finished 1-13 and 6-20.

The Razorbacks' Martin Terry closed out his record-breaking year with 31 points. Sophomore Dean Tolson added 30 points to become the fifth leading rookie scorer in Arkansas history.

Arkansas built a 60-65 half-time lead, expanding the margin in the second half. Tolson at one point hit six straight field goals.

But with the Arkansas starters on the bench, the Owls ripped off eight straight points to get back into contention. Lee Roy Marion and Perry Gaudet cut the Rice deficit to six, but the effort was too little and too late.

Russia Strengthening Its Communist European Allies

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Soviet Union is acting to strengthen the ability of its Communist European allies to move troops and war gear by air, U.S. intelligence sources report.

At the same time, U.S. sources said, the Russian-led Warsaw Pact nations are undertaking major improvement of their highway and rail networks, especially those connecting the Soviet Union with forward areas facing West Europe.

The moves reportedly were decided at a meeting of Warsaw Pact defense ministers last month. Besides Russia, active Warsaw Pact members are East Germany, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Romania and Bulgaria.

The upgrading of Warsaw Pact military aid and ground-transport capabilities appears aimed at enhancing what Western military experts claim is a Communist quick-mobilization advantage over the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

This development comes at a time when NATO is trying to persuade the Soviet Union to start negotiations on balanced force reductions on both sides of the Iron Curtain.

According to the U.S. intelligence sources, the Warsaw Pact defense ministers agreed to creation of new military air-transport regiments in Poland, East Germany, Czechoslovakia and Hungary. Those regiments will come directly under the pact's high command, it was said.

The Russians are expected to supply their allies with four-engine AN12 medium transports for the new air units.

The new plan also calls for increasing the number of helicopters in East European air forces, which now can muster fewer than 250, according to Western estimates.

Another facet of the program involves improving military airfields throughout East Europe, U.S. intelligence sources said.

The planned modernization of ground-transportation routes was said to cover highways and railroads in Russia as well as East Germany, Poland and Czechoslovakia.

Pioneer Does Two Maneuvers

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Pioneer 10 has completed two maneuvers leading up to the course change Tuesday that will determine whether the spacecraft will fly by Jupiter as planned.

The 21-month, 620-million-mile journey began Thursday as Pioneer roared aloft from Cape Kennedy, Fla. Over the weekend controllers at the California Institute of Technology's Jet Propulsion Laboratory here ordered the maneuvers as the craft was a million miles from earth traveling at 20,500 miles an hour.

Scientists said the thrust rockets to be used Tuesday worked properly in a test and that a rotation system keeping a radio beam for Pioneer in constant contact with the earth was activated.

At the same time the sixth of 11 scientific instruments aboard the craft began operation. It is a telescope sending back data on cosmic rays.

Pryor Explains His Stand on Amnesty

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Rep. David Pryor, D-Ark., a candidate for the Senate, called a news conference Saturday to make clear that he has not proposed total amnesty for draft evaders.

Pryor said he would favor conditional amnesty under which the persons who avoided the draft and thereby broke the law would perform five years of military or other public service.

The congressman called for the other two senatorial candidates, Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., and Ted Boswell, to take positions on amnesty.

Pryor called the news conference after his campaign staff received numerous complaints in response to a news story that said that Pryor favored amnesty without pointing out that he placed conditions on his position.

He said that failure to establish the mechanics for amnesty once the Vietnam war was over would "contradict the American belief that everyone is entitled to a second chance."

"After a war, we forgive our enemies," Pryor said. "Why can't we forgive our sons? Yes, these young men have committed a wrong, but this war is wrong."

Pryor recommended that an independent board be established to review each application for amnesty. The amnesty should be conditioned on five years of peacetime military service or five years of service in a veteran's hospital or in other areas of community need, such as nursing homes and parks, he said.

The congressman said he did not favor unconditional amnesty because draft evaders should pay a penalty for breaking the law.

On another matter, Pryor said he had not decided how he would vote on proposed constitutional amendments to prohibit busing as a device to achieve racial balance in the public schools.

He reaffirmed his position that he did not regard busing as a proper tool for desegregation.

HOPE (ARK.) STAR, Printed by Offset Club Hears Humorist

Humorist J.P. "Bob" Brumbelow of Pine Bluff was the guest speaker at the 54th Anniversary Hope Rotary Club Ladies Night March 3 at the Town and Country Restaurant. He was introduced by Rotarian Vincent Foster.

"The Rural Folk in Arkansas (with emphasis on Grant County)" was the theme of the many stories told by the speaker, who said he had tried almost all occupations except bootlegging and preaching and might have considered them except for his present position as Executive Director of the Arkansas Alcoholic Control Commission. He acknowledged that his talk had no theme and would make no specific points, but his audience of 70 found his easy manner most enjoyable as he recited tales of his youth in Grant County, told Lester Sitzes.

Valentino Car for Auction

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Another souvenir of Hollywood's past—Rudolph Valentino's 49-year-old luxury automobile, still operable and gleaming as though new—goes up for auction tonight.

Chancellor to Retire

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Dr. Carey V. Stabler, chancellor of the University of Arkansas at Little Rock, will retire Sept. 1m.

Dr. David W. Mullins, UA president, said Stabler decided to retire at the optional retirement age of 65 for health reasons.

Stabler had been chancellor of UALR since the merger of Little Rock University with UA in 1969. He had served as president LRU from 1956 until the merger.

Rogers Returns to Public Spotlight

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State William P. Rogers steps into the public limelight Tuesday, and for many of his State Department colleagues it is not a moment too soon.

A massive annual foreign-policy report will be issued under Rogers's name, to be followed by his personal presentation of it at a Senate Foreign Relations Committee hearing Wednesday and to the House Foreign Affairs Committee next week.

Publicity for the secretary of State will be a welcome switch for those lower-ranking U.S. diplomats who fretted during President Nixon's China trip over the noted absence of their boss from much of the summit talk.

Park Shuttle to Increase

YOSEMITE NATIONAL PARK, Calif. (AP) — The National Park Service says it will increase its free shuttle bus fleet in Yosemite National Park from three to eight this year in an effort to further reduce private vehicle traffic.

The 125-passenger, double-decked buses are powered by low-emission engines. They are used on two park loops which provide access to the main sights of the park, hiking trails and tourist accommodations.

Motorcars have been banned beyond Yosemite Village and the Park Service said many of Yosemite's 1.6 million visitors last year formed long queues to take advantage of the bus service.

Where's Rogers?

"Where's Rogers?" was a question posed in influence-conscious Washington with the front-page display of Nixon's historic meeting with Chairman Mao Tse-tung.

Premier Chou En-lai was in the photo. So was presidential adviser Henry A. Kissinger. But no secretary of State.

The question of Rogers's role in the China discussions kept popping up at the State Department's news briefings in Washington and spokesman Charles Bray sought to fend off unfavorable comparisons.

"Secretaries of State do not ordinarily participate" in such chief-of-state gatherings as a matter of protocol, Bray said.

Total Electric Heat

Slip into something comfortable.

Choose from four kinds of comfort with electric heating. Why four? Because all homes are not alike. Some electric heating systems work best in older homes, and some are ideal for new homes.

If you would like free advice on which system is best for your home, call your AP&L office and ask to speak to a Customer Service Representative.

Electric Baseboard This system fits neatly against the wall and uses little floor space. Other features of electric baseboard heat include individual temperature control in each room and no moving parts.

Electric Wall Insert This electric heating system is inserted flush with the wall in each room so that you can heat only those rooms you're using. Each unit is controlled by its own thermostat.

Electric Heat Pump This system provides heating and cooling from the same unit while it filters the air clean. It's called a heat pump because it "pumps heat" in two directions—into the home for heating and out of the home for cooling.

Electric Furnace The furnace tucks away neatly in closet space, attic or any out-of-the-way place and circulates warm, filtered air throughout the home.

Breakfast Feeds Heart Disease

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

Dear Dr. Lamb—My husband is a hardworking executive who is primarily a steak, salad and egg man. He loathes fish, and we guard against his tendency to be overweight constantly. I want to keep him healthy, but I am somewhat at a loss. This morning we had two-ounce chunks of Cheddar cheese, one-half fresh pear and nonfat milk. This and the cottage cheese route are a poor and unappetizing substitute for a warm breakfast on a cold day. Finding proteins really worries me. Can you offer suggestions?

Dear Reader—No other single dietary habit has contributed so much to atherosclerosis and heart attacks in the American population than the American breakfast. Breakfast was essentially unknown until a few centuries ago. Most people in the world started the day by drinking a tankard of ale with bread. The British introduced the breakfast habit because they didn't have lunch.

The egg yolk at breakfast is the major source of the large intake of cholesterol in many Americans' diets. The American Heart Assn. has recommended limiting consumption of egg yolks to only three a week, including those used in cooking.

It is too bad your husband doesn't like fish. They make an excellent dish for breakfast. Cheddar cheese, however, is loaded with fat and contains a moderate amount of cholesterol.

You could always give him a hot cereal for breakfast, such as hot oatmeal with sugar and fortified skim milk.

Of course, you can use hot cakes and, if you are worried about limiting your saturated fat intake, you can always use one of the soft, tub margarines made from corn or safflower oil.

Salmon patties are excellent for breakfast. You could try chicken a la king, leaving the fat out of the cream sauce you make. This served on toast is excellent. You can do the same for creamed dried beef.

Occasionally you could use some lean ham. If you trim away all of the fat and use lean ham, it contains considerably less fat than bacon, sausage or even Canadian bacon.

For people who love eggs, I would like to mention Eggstra, which you will probably find in the dietary section of your supermarket. This is a powdered egg product which contains only one-fifth the amount of cholesterol and fat of ordinary eggs. Even sticking by the American Heart Assn. requirement of less than three egg yolks, this would mean that you could use the equivalent of 15 eggs a week if you used Eggstra. These taste quite good and are suitable for omelettes and scrambled eggs.

Now, that is a pretty good list of things you can do, particularly when you consider that there are a number of people who merely grab a cup of coffee and that's breakfast. I am not an enthusiast for eating big breakfasts, but the coffee habit on an empty stomach may not be too good either.

Governor to Reprimand Officials Judge Orders No More School Strife

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Dale Bumpers has said he will reprimand two state law enforcement officials who held stock in the Interlock, Inc., consulting firm.

The two are Col. Bill Miller, head of the State Police, and Ralph Scott, former State Police director who now is assistant director of a federally funded program to reduce alcohol-related highway deaths in Pulaski County.

Separate investigations conducted by Bumpers office and by Atty. Gen. Ray Thornton were critical of their ownership of stock in Interlock, a Houston, Tex., firm that has received some law enforcement-related contracts from the state.

Two others also held stock in the firm. They are Marshall Rush of Pine Bluff, a member of the state Board of Correction, and John Hickey, former director of the state Commission on Crime and Law Enforcement and later regional director of the federal Law Enforcement Assistance Administration, a job he recently resigned.

In a news conference Saturday, Bumpers also said he had tried to mediate the racial problem in Lee County by inviting both sides to a recent meeting at the governor's mansion that lasted more than four hours. The governor said he thought the meeting was cordial and that some agreement had been reached, particularly concerning 3,000 black pupils who are boycotting schools. Bumpers said the agreement later fell through and that it was "deplorable" for 3,000 children to be out of school.

He denied a published report that he had urged federal approval of a $1.2 million grant to fund the Lee County Cooperative Clinic at Marianna for the next 18 months. He said, however, that the clinic served a useful purpose and that he did not see how anyone could quarrel with its goal of providing medical care to the poor.

Whites in Lee County claim that the clinic has been the source of the area's racial problems.

On another matter, the governor would not say at this time whether he would seek a tax increase next year if he is still in office. He said the state's fiscal situation was as good as it ever was and that most of his proposed programs would require no large amount of additional financing.

"I recognize the antitax mood in the state," he said. Bumpers said the state did not have enough money to provide free college tuition for Vietnam veterans, but that he might set up a tuition program for wives and children of prisoners of war.

He said the report he had been studying in connection with a proposal to establish a university system in Arkansas was a 1968 report that said a university system was not practicable at that time.

Bumpers also said he would try to make himself more accessible to the news media.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Faced with continued racial strife at a school he ordered desegregated last year, a federal judge has ruled that any further disturbances by students or agitation by "outsiders" will result in federal prosecution. U.S. District Court Judge Gerald Tjoflat issued a temporary restraining order Sunday night after school officials complained in a petition that their efforts to carry out court-ordered desegregation at Ribault High School were being frustrated by racial disturbances.

Directing that his order be served personally on leaders of the local NAACP chapter and other black organizations, Tjoflat cautioned that violators would be subject to arrest and prosecution for criminal contempt of federal laws.

In their petition, School Supt. Cecil Hardesty and Sheriff Dale Carson claimed that "the inflammatory action and conduct of a group of black students and black outside agitators" hampered efforts to keep order on the 1,740-student campus.

The order restrained students from obstructing or preventing class attendance by students and faculty and from harassing, threatening or intimidating any teacher or other school employee or any student en route to or from school.

Judge Tjoflat ordered that the Ribault campus was off limits for everyone except students attending classes, faculty and other school employees, persons having specific business obligations at the school parents or others who have received prior permission from the principal.

Ribault has been plagued with racial disturbances since Tjoflat's desegregation order went into effect last fall, transforming the school from 85 per cent white or 60 per cent black. Classes have been cancelled twice in the last several weeks after interracial fighting broke out.

A NEW DENOMINATION WASHINGTON, D.C. (AP) — One of the newest, unusually named denominations on the religious scene is the "Church of What's Happening Now," founded here recently by a black woman, the Rev. Sister Imogene Williams, whose church title is "Prime Minister."

New 3-Year Navy Plan

New Three Year Enlistment Programs were announced today by Chief John McLeod, Hope Navy Recruiter.

Two enlistment options, titled the "Seafarer" and "Airmen" Programs, are designed specifically for the young man who desires to serve in the challenging environment of the sea, without incurring the longer active duty commitment imposed by attendance at an advanced training school.

The programs can guarantee, in writing, duty with one of the Navy's seagoing units—whether that be a guided-missile destroyer operating in the Pacific Ocean, or a sophisticated aircraft squadron embarked on an aircraft carrier in the Mediterranean Sea. It opens the horizons of the seas or the spaciousness of the skies to additional young men.

The Navy has places in March for 3,735 men in this program. Under the Seafarer Program, Young men will be guaranteed duty on board a ship operating from the coast of their choice. Men will receive on the job training in one of three apprenticeships, seaman (general shipboard duties), fireman (engineering assignments), or constructionmen (seabee or construction trade assignments).

A young man in the Airmen Program is guaranteed assignment to an aviation unit on the coast of his choice. Duty may be at a naval air installation, on board an aircraft carrier, or as an aircrew member flying in aircraft.

Both programs are open to 17-year olds who are high school graduates, or 18 to 31 year olds who hold a high school diploma or an equivalency. Waivers may be granted to non-high school graduates who score high on the entrance examinations.

Starting salary for these programs will be $288.00 per month. Plus housing, meals, medical and dental care and all the other Navy benefits.

For more information on this and other Navy programs, contact Chief John McLeod, your Navy Recruiter, today. He is in the Hope Post Office Room 110, Tuesday's and Fridays or call collect to Texarkana 214-794-6301 for an appointment at your convenience.

NAIA Playoffs Start Tonight

ARKADELPHIA, Ark. (AP) — It's offense vs. defense in Round 1 and a bitter old rivalry in Round 2 of the NAIA District 17 playoffs here tonight.

Tonight's winners meet Tuesday night for the right to represent the district in the NAIA national tournament beginning in Kansas City next Monday.

Arkansas AM&N, which led the Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference in offense, meets Southern State, the No. 1 AIC team in defense, at 6:30 p.m. today.

In the second game, league champion Ouchita, playing on its home court, tangles with cross-town rival Henderson at 8:30 p.m.

The Tigers, led by 6-foot-6 forward Tommy Patterson, second-leading scorer in the league, compiled a 23-4 season record and a 17-3 AIC mark this year.

WAR IS AN EVERY DAY affair for both the young and the old among South Vietnam's Montagnard tribesmen. The tough mountain people have managed to survive and preserve much of their traditional way of life despite seeing outsiders fight over their lands for more than 10 years.

U.S. Secrecy Policies Probed

By CARL C. CRAFT
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — A congressional subcommittee is opening detailed hearings on governmental secrecy policies and information-handling practices, with three former presidential press secretaries as leadoff witnesses.

Problems of getting and giving executive-branch information, as seen from the White House press officer's point of view, were due for discussion today. The witnesses: Dwight

Texarkana Hospital Closes

TEXARKANA, Ark. (AP) — Four States Memorial Hospital in operation here since 1904, will close May 1, administrator Sam Raney said.

No patient will be accepted after April 15, he said.

Raney said because of an inability to qualify for federal medicare funds, the hospital has been in financial trouble for some time.

The hospital has a wooden structure. Because of that, participation in the medicare program was terminated last year, Raney said.

The facility was known as the Cotton Belt Hospital before the name was changed to Four States.

Bumpers Going to Seek Second Term

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Citing an "obligation" to fulfill the "great mandate" of his election in 1970, Gov. Dale Bumpers has announced that he will seek the traditional second term.

Bumpers told a crowd of about 150 well-wishers and state employees in announcing Saturday from the governor's conference room at the Capitol that one two-year term was too little in which to implement the programs he proposes for the state.

He claimed success for his programs to date and promised to continue some, to expand on others and to add new ones where needed.

In revealing his plans, Bumpers ended speculation that he might run against Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., this year. The governor had never publicly ruled out the possibility that he would oppose McClellan.

Asked by newsmen if he had ever seriously considered the Senate race, Bumpers said a discussion of the subject would be "like beating a dead horse" and he would not comment.

So far, only Bumpers and state Rep. George W. Davis of Horatio have announced for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination. Former state Welfare Commission Len E. Blaylock is an announced Republican candidate.

Perrin Jones, a Searcy newspaper publisher, has indicated an interest in running for the Democratic nomination.

Bumpers, who defeated Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller by an overwhelming margin in the 1970 general election, said he had not yet hired an advertising agency for the campaign and expand this year and that he had not put together a campaign organization.

The governor said that during his first term he had concentrated on legislation to provide

D. Eisenhower's news secretary, James C. Hagerty; John F. Kennedy's Pierre Salinger and Lyndon B. Johnson's George Reedy.

President Nixon's communications chief, Herb Klein, declined to testify "on the ground that members of the President's immediate staff do not appear before congressional committees," said Chairman William S. Moorhead, D-Pa., of the House government information subcommittee.

"This is the first chance the public—and the Congress—has had to gain an historical overview of the public-information practices of those who govern our democratic society. We hope to lift the lid, however slightly, of the White House and executive departments to find out how the government information system works—and how it should work," Moorhead said.

In a statement prepared for the start of his panel's review of the governmental-secrecy situation in light of the Freedom of Information Act, Moorhead added this would be "not a partisan effort—we seek an historical view, not a political view."

Moorhead said: "Call it government secrecy, news management, the credibility gap, or truth in government, it is a confidence in government, more governmental efficiency through executive reorganization, a more equitable distribution of the tax load, health care to the poor and to persons in rural areas, expansion of facilities for persons with mental problems, prison reform, reduction of drug traffic, more effective law enforcement through a criminal justice information system, cleaner air and water and a quality parks and recreational system.

The governor said that "we have just begun" in most programs.

"Many of them are still in their infancy," he said. "In addition, there is more, much more, to be done."

He said the state must intensify its efforts in areas that are "sore spots" that produce frustrations.

He said these areas included an overcrowded Children's Colony, lack of medical services, inadequate fixed incomes for the elderly, unemployment among veterans and inability of Arkansans to get their sons or daughters into medical or law schools.

Bumpers said the state must find an alternate method of financing public education if the courts determine that the current system, based on property taxes, is unconstitutional.

He said jail reform must be begun and that it seemed that a regionalized system would be the most practical approach.

Bumpers said the state must carefully study the feasibility of Winthrop Rockefeller by an no fault insurance program. He said the state badly needed laws to limit campaign expenditures, establish a public agency for the campaign defenders system and expand the current code of ethics statute together a campaign organization.

The governor also said Arkansas must set aside wilderness areas and preserve their natural beauty.

problem which has been with us since our form of government was established. It is a political problem, but it is not a partisan problem."

The 1966 Freedom of Information Act, the product of 11 years of studies by the subcommittee, "was not designed to solve all government information problems," Moorhead said. But, he added, it was an effort "to help correct a growing attitude that government business is none of the public's business."

Under the law, any citizen may see most government documents except those in nine categories of material exempt from this stipulation. Those range from defense secrets and interagency memos to files which if made public would invade a person's privacy.

Three former public-information officers for federal agencies also were called to testify today.

Legislators to Washington

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Some Arkansas legislators are to go to Washington in about four weeks to urge the U. S. Transportation Department to make U. S. 65 a major, four-lane route through Arkansas from Canada to New Orleans, La.

Rep. Roger V. Logan Jr. of Harrison, backer of the U.S. 65 development effort, said all members of the Arkansas congressional delegation had pledged support for the highway proposal.

Utility Rates Are Going Up

By BROOKS JACKSON
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Price Commission has decided strong evidence exists that electric and telephone firms must be granted large rate increases to maintain service, a staff member says.

But, he added, the commission has not ruled out other changes in utility regulations, which presently require existing regulatory agencies to grant only the lowest rate increases that will guarantee continued service.

The commission debates the politically sensitive issue this week, working against a deadline of next Friday when its 30-day freeze of utility rates is scheduled to end.

The commission last month froze all rates of privately owned utilities, including railroads, airlines and regulated truckers, as well as electric, gas, telephone and telegraph companies. It held four days of public hearings on the subject and discussed the matter in general terms last Tuesday.

"They concluded they had seen substantial evidence that large-percentage increases are needed if there is to be continued service in this country," Price Commission counsel Michael Lang said in an interview. He said he referred to the "fixed" utilities, meaning electric, gas, telephone and telegraph companies.

Lang speculated the freeze

Monday, March 6, 1972 would end as scheduled, even if the commission has not drafted new regulations. The commission would have until March 25 to order rollbacks of increases that went into effect and later were found out of line with new policy.

Present regulations generally say existing government regulatory agencies retain authority over utilities, but must make sure those increases granted are the minimum required to maintain service.

The freeze was ordered because the commission decided firmer guidelines are needed for the regulatory bodies.

Political Gamemanship in N.H.

By WALTER R. MEARS
AP Political Writer
MANCHESTER, N.H. (AP) — For the candidates, the managers and the analysts, the New Hampshire presidential primary is an exercise in political gamemanship.

Writing the rules is part of the game.

Since everyone assumes that Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine will win the Democratic primary and that President Nixon will sweep past two challengers in the Republican balloting, the problem for the players is to determine how big a victory the favorite should be expected to score.

Muskie is complaining to voters that he faces a phantom opponent in the suggestion that to score a significant victory he must capture a percentage of the vote that will be determined by newsmen and commentators only after the ballots are counted.

"The way we win an election in Maine is to get more votes than anybody else," he said.

But in a presidential preference primary it isn't that simple. The outcome of New Hampshire's preference vote will elect no one to anything and will not award a single nominating vote at the Democratic National Convention.

Delegates are elected separately.

The impact will be on the political psychology of Democrats watching the leadoff voting, and a major question to be answered is whether Muskie's front-running campaign will be boosted or slowed.

Whatever happens, there are 23 primaries to follow, and unless New Hampshire's verdict is a major surprise, it will be filed and forgotten as the primary season wears on with a contest almost every Tuesday.

Muskie has said that a defeat in New Hampshire would be a disaster that his campaign probably could not survive. But he is expected to run well ahead of his closest rival, Sen.

A minority showing, even in victory, would be no help to Muskie, who needs a big win on his New England home territory to boost his campaign in the primary contests ahead, particularly the tough race coming up in Florida March 14.

McGovern has set a target for himself, saying that anything over 25 per cent of the vote would be a respectable showing.

The other Democratic entries trail far behind, and the major question about their showing is whether Mills will cut into the Muskie vote.

In separate balloting, New Hampshire Democrats will award 18 nominating votes at the national convention. Muskie's managers expect to sweep the delegates.

In the Republican primary, President Nixon appears headed for a landslide victory in the state that started him on his political comeback in 1968.
